TRIBE IN CAPITAL FOR FOUR GAMES

Manager Jack Lewis Has All Chicks in Good Shape and Expects a Clean Sweep. Youngsters May Be Started BY BOB PIGUE.

Jack Lewis and his Tribe of Chickasaws pulled out of Memphis at 11 o'clock Tuesday night for Nashville, where they are to provide entertainment for Capital City fairs during the ensuing rour days by playing the Volunteers at Sulphur Dell. Neither the Chicka nor the Vols are in the pennant hunt, so the series will have no bearing on that important question. The Volunteers just finished whaling the wadding out of the Chattanooga Lookouts, the strongest club in the league, being as they are holding all the other seven clubs up, roesting on the bottom.

CLUB IN GOOD SHAPE.

CLUB IN GOOD SHAPE.

The Chicks left Memphis in good shape and Chief Lewis said he expected to take at least three out of the four games with the Vois.

It is more than probable that Managed Lewis will send in both his young sachers. Zoeller and Webber, during the Nashville series. Neither pitcher has been given a chance to do any work, and if the Tribe can get out in front sufficiently, Lewis will shoot thom in so as to see what they have in their pitching reportoire.

The Chicks will get through in Nashville Saturday afternoon, and will hurry home so as to make ready for the Chaltanooga Lookouts, the tall-enders and boob champions, who are to be here Sunday and Monday for three games, one Sunday and two Monday, which will be Labor day.

The Chicks will remain intact the remainder of the season, with no other deals being made that will take any players away or bring any more here.

THE CASE OF CARROLL.

The case of Dixie Carroll, Chick center fielder, is a strange one. Carroll, who is leading the Southern league in base-stealing and run-scoring, and who is the runner-up to the leading batter in the Sunland major, is not being sought by the major leagues as would be expected in a case of this kind.

There have been three or four offers by big league teams to Memphis for Carroll, but they have been ridleulously low, not anywhere close to what a player of Dixie's ability and caliber should bring. The Memphis club officials have not made any deal that will send him to the big show, for not a single one of the offers that have been made have been worth considering.

Two or three clubs are perfectly willing to take Carroll if he is given to them for a few dollars, but they are unxilling to plank down anywhere near the sum, that the Memphis club officials know he is worth. The case of Dixle Carroll, Chick cen

As the leading base-atealer and runscorer in addition to batting well over $100 and secend only to Harry Harper, who is leading the league in swatting, it seems that major league clubs would fall all over themselves to land Carroll, who is without question a much better outfielder and hitter than Pat Duncan, who is at present a member of the world's champion Chicinnati Reds. Dixle went to the Boston Nationals last fall, and remained there until the season closed. He would have been netained but for the fact that he was a left-handed swinger, and Manager George Stallings preferred a right-handed batter, owing to the fact that he had so many portside hitters that he couldn't afferd to have an ontire line-up of left-handed batters.

Dixle returned to the Southern, and he has been one of the greatest sensations the league has ever had. He has been hitting the ball hard, has been running bases in great fashion, and has played a brilliant brand of ball all the way.

But the big league scouts will lot give Dixle a tumble.

They want him all right, but they're not willing to put out. And there's Men of the rub.

COLLY LOOMS UP.

Harry Collenberger, Chick shortsmitt has proven that the plugger sometime Wins out.

Colly has been the weak link in the Chick machine for a long time. But he has never given up hope. He has been out there hustling day after day, overcoming fault after fault, and keeping his batting eye more and more peeled for a good ball to hit and then swatting it.

e result has been that during the pass couple of months he has developed into one of the leading infielders in the league. Not only has his fielding been sensational, but his hitting has picked up to a remarkable extent. Hels gradually overcoming the habit of Is gradually overcoming the habit of going after had balls, and the result has been that he is getting more hits, and is clouting the ball harder than ever before.

ever before.

Collenberger has a remarkable throwing arm. He also has a good pair of hands, and has shown that he has the fielding ability to make him a fixture with the Tribe. If he can continue to pick up in his hitting, and get to batating around 265 or 270, he will have no further worries over retaining his berth as a regular. berth as a regular.

Collenberger is going to be back with the Chicks next season. It is more than probable that the present infield of the Tribe will be retained, provid-ing some club in the majors does not pluck Folly McLarry, the hard-hitting doorman of the Chicks.

This is usually the case with the Peb-ble Citians. They play ball like wild men for the first two-thirds of the season and then blow up with a loud report.

season and then blow up with a loud report.

The Travelers were playing fine ball for a time, and some of the alleged wise ones said they were going to win the pennant hands down. But those who know the Travelers and their habit of blowing in late August and early September took the prediction with a grain of salt.

And sure enough, after having been in the lead for quite a while, all of a sudden the Little Rockers caved in. They met the New Orleans Pelcians and lost three out of four games to the Birds.

the Birds.

The Travelers came over to Memphis, and on Sunday they looked to be a shot outfit. They appeared to have been driven until they could stind the gruefling pace no longer. Even Dutch Herbeveld, the big right-hander who usually stands the chicks on their heads, couldn't hold the Tribe.

The wrecking grew of the Travelers didn't do any wrecking that day.

Of course, the next day they came through and beat the Chicks easily, but the Little Rock machine doesn't look like the same fighting aggregation it was a month ago.

IT IS A TOSS-UP.

At appears to be a toss-up between New Orieans, Birm ingham and Atlanta for this season's pennant, for the club that can stand the gruelling finish will be the victor.

CLEVELAND O. Sept 1.—In the death of Ray Chapman the Cleveland ball club is deprived of the services of the best all-round shoristop in the American league. That he can not be replaced this year, and that with his passing goes the likelihood of Clevelands wimning the pennant, is the fear of Cleveland fans.

In losing Chapman the Indians lose one of their best batters, their best base runner, the best sacrifice hitter in the American league and one of the most seneational fielders. It was only during the New York series that a Pittsburgh baseball writer here for those clashes said:

"If Pittsburgh had Chapman at short it would win the National league pennant."
